Item 5.02. Departure of Directors or Certain Officers; Election of Directors; Appointment of Certain Officers; Compensatory Arrangements of Certain Officers.

On February 1, 2024, Norfolk Southern Corporation (the "Company") announced that Ann A. Adams will be leaving her position as Executive Vice President and Chief Transformation Officer of the Company, effective March 16, 2024 (the "Transition Date"). This change in Ms. Adams' position, as well as changes to certain internal administrative reporting line reorganizations will constitute a "Good Reason" event under the Company's Executive Severance Plan (the "Plan"), entitling Ms. Adams to certain benefits thereunder upon a termination of her employment.

In order to retain Ms. Adams and benefit from her specialized skills relating to her oversight of the Company's human resources, information technology, and labor relations matters, on January 29, 2024, the Company entered into a Retention Agreement with Ms. Adams pursuant to which Ms. Adams will remain an active employee of the Company from the Transition Date, for a period of time that may extend to July 31, 2025 (unless she is earlier terminated pursuant to the terms of the Retention Agreement). Under the Retention Agreement, Ms. Adams will assist in the transition of her prior responsibilities, assist in the transition to new leadership in the Human Resources and Information Technology departments, provide consultation and evaluation with respect to the Company's organization structure, support on-going and pending litigation involving the Company, assist with the formulation and implementation of the Company's plans regarding the upcoming round of national labor negotiations beginning in 2025, and perform other duties and responsibilities consistent with her skills and experience.

Pursuant to the Retention Agreement and subject to Ms. Adams' execution of a Separation Agreement at the time of her departure from the Company, Ms. Adams will retain her entitlement to a "Good Reason" termination under the Plan and will remain eligible to receive the severance benefits she is entitled to under the Plan when her employment with the Company ends (the "Separation Date"). The severance benefits that Ms. Adams will receive are materially consistent with the benefits described under the heading "Executive Severance Plan" previously disclosed in the Company's definitive Proxy Statement on Schedule 14A filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on March 31, 2023, and the Separation Agreement is generally consistent with the form of such agreement attached as Exhibit A to the Plan (which also includes certain non-competition, non-solicitation, non-disparagement, confidentiality and cooperation covenants). The severance benefits include: a lump sum payment equal to two times Ms. Adams' base salary; a prorated annual incentive for time worked in 2024 up to Ms. Adams' Transition Date, or, if greater, the accrued annual incentive as of her Separation Date; a cash payment for the full value of restricted share units and the option profit on outstanding stock options, and a prorated cash payment for the value of performance share units, all calculated as of her Separation Date, or if she becomes a retirement-eligible employee prior to her Separation Date, treatment of her long-term incentives in accordance with the terms of the Company's Long Term Incentive Plan; and lump sum payments of $30,000 and $36,000 for outplacement services and health care coverage, respectively.

The foregoing description of the Retention Agreement (including the Separation Agreement attached as Appendix A thereto) does not purport to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text thereof, which the Company intends to file with its quarterly report for the quarter ended March 31, 2024.
